Do you have. . .

- An old album filled with unlabeled photographs?
- Grandparents with no dates, places or families attached to them?
- Relatives who just materialized in the New World or came from villages you can't find?
- Conflicting information about dates and places for ancestors?
- DNA cousins who don't connect anywhere in your "document trail"?

What do you do next?

Track the Tribe: Find your Clan & Ancestors

- Examine & compare early census records & ship manifests to find clues to original homelands.
- Look for related families or neighbors from the same village or region. Did they have the same destination? People traveled & settled together.
- Do later census records show recent family immigrants? Where did they come from?
- 19th century Germans lived in many areas of Eastern Europe: Prussia, Pomerania, Russian Poland, Hungary, Galicia, Bukowina, Russia, Volhynia (Ukraine), Bessarabia, & Baltic countries.

- Ancestral village neighbors or relatives may be on ship manifests & in early census records.
- If you can't find your family on all census records, trace close neighbors. Your ancestor may be hidden in spelling errors & on a nearby page.
- Look for emigration surname spellings in the language of origin, not common English, on ship manifests & the earliest census records. Always try surname spelling variations. Don't rely on Soundex.
- After immigration, check common English or American spellings of surnames & given names.

More to Consider: Multiple Marriages

- Neither men nor women remained widowed long in the 19th century, especially if they had children.
- 2nd & even 3rd marriages were not uncommon.
- Find death, marriage & birth records for these families.
- In the 20th century divorce is more common.
- Tracing the partners through several marriages can be complex.

More to Consider: Tribe Connections

- Connect with descendents from the same ancestral village. You may find 3rd or 4th cousins!
- Cousins may have photos and documents common to your own family!
- Compare information, documents, stories, and photos from other Tribe members to solve mysteries.
- Join a genealogy society with interests and ancestral locations similar to your own.
- Form a team with some of these Tribe members, divide the research efforts & share in the triumphs!
